DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment dated 14 October 2005 has been received in application serial number 10/718,105. All comments have been taken into consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-2, 4-6, 11-12, 14-17, 24, 27-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cheng et al. 2004/0044400. Cheng et al. discloses the invention as claimed comprising: a cylindrical body having a plurality of rings (71, 73, 75) aligned along a common longitudinal axis (see figure 8); each ring having a compressed and expanded delivery state; the cylindrical body having a proximal section; a distal section and a central section (73); and at least one first peak of a central section ring being connected to at least one first peak of a proximal section ring by at least one link wherein the connected first peaks point toward each other and at least one first peak in every ring is not connected to any first peak in an adjacent ring (the central section includes all of section 73 including 72, 78, and 79 and not only 72). It is inherent that (77, 79) are links as defined by the American Heritage Dictionary c) a single connecting element; wherein the stent is formed from NiTi [0018]; wherein drugs can be incorporated [0081]. The "openings" as claimed are formed when each ring's the out of phase peaks meet (see attached mark-up copy).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 3, 7-10, 18-23, 25-26, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cheng et al. in view of Stiger 2003/0204244. Cheng et al. has been disclosed above however Cheng's link (77, 79, 89, 99) in figures 8-10 with out of phase attachments are not linear, curved or those combinations. However Cheng et al. does disclose in other various embodiments links that are straight, curved or partially straight and curved (see 17, 15) and Stiger teaches straight links/bridges 206A that connect a first peak to a second peak. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to take the links (77, 79, 89 and 99) and change them to be straight or curved because Cheng states in section [0058] that the number and location of the links can be varied in order to vary the desired longitudinal and flexibility of the stent and is deemed a design modification. It is also obvious to modify the number of peaks in each section in order to vary the axial stiffness of the device.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claim 13 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claim 43 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 14 October 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has amended the claims and contends that Chen et al. does not anticipate the claims as currently amended specifically that "...every peak in the central section 2=73 is connected to an adjacent peak...". The examiner disagrees and believes as the claims are currently written the rejection is proper. Cheng's central section 73 includes 3 sets of rings. Therefore noting the direction of element 78 at least one first peak in every ring. is not connected to any first peak in an adjacent ring (the first ring in section 75).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

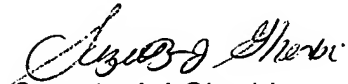

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
